NY Lt. Governor Bolsters DelCo Candidates in Local Races

NY Lt. Governor Kathy Hochul visited Union Grove Distillery in Arkville on July 22 to encourage Delaware County candidates for local elections in November. Pictured are: Delhi Town Justice candidate Michele Frazier, Middletown Supervisor candidate Todd Pascarella, Middletown Town Justice candidate John Fairbairn, Middletown Council candidate Robin Williams, Sidney Council candidate Beatrice Bishop and Walton Supervisor candidate Lillian Browne Burdick. Also pictured is Delaware County Democratic Committee Chairperson Kathleen Hayek.

ARKVILLE - New York's Lieutenant Governor Kathy Hochul visited Delaware County on Thursday, June 22 to encourage and support local candidates running for office in November's General Election. Democratic Committee Chairperson Kathleen Hayek issued the invitation to Hochul to rally support for Democrat candidates from Middletown, Walton and Delhi, where Republican incumbent supervisors Carl Davis, Joseph Cetta and Mark Tuthill, are being challenged by Todd Pascarella, Lillian Browne Burdick and Quinn Kelley, respectively. The incumbent Republican Delhi Town Justice seat held by Richard Gumo is also being challenged by Democrat candidate Michele Frazier. Democrat candidates for Sidney Town Council, Beatrice Bishop, and Middletown Town Council, Robin Williams, were also present, as was incumbent Democrat Middletown Justice John Fairbairn who is unchallenged in November's election. "Politics is the path to getting good people in office," Hochul said. "And you, my friends, are part of the machinery that makes that happen. We have an important story to tell, and you are part of that message." Hochul began her career in politics as a town council member, a position she held for 14 years. She encouraged local candidates not to be discouraged by running for office in a Republican-heavy area. Farmers, small business owners and residents believe that Democrats are the best fighters for them, she said. "You know the secret to success," Hochul said. "Diversity makes us stronger." Delaware County Democratic Chair person Kathleen Hayek praised local candidates for their willingness and commitment in running for office and thanked Hochul for taking time out of her schedule to show support for Delaware County Democratic candidates.
